

TEUTONS ARE FORCED BACK OVER NINETY MILE FRONTS

Russians Systematically Pound Every Defense Until Last Lemberg Barrier is Broken.

HEAVY ATTACK AT STOBYSCHOW

Germans Behind Fortified Positions Halt Advance at Stobysch-French Thrust Proves Success for Capture of Villages of Maurepas and Clercy—British Suffer Rebuff.

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—It is announced that a German counter last night drove the British from German first line trenches on a seven hundred yard front southwest of Thiepval near Pozieres. The British occupied the trenches Sunday.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 14.—The last Teuton barrier to Lemberg has been broken. The Austrians and Germans are retreating on a ninety mile front. General Bothner was unable to make a stand at the Zlota-Lypa river on account of Russian flank movements northward. The Russian moving machine is reaping a bloody harvest. It is estimated the Teutons lost seventy-five thousand men east and southeast of Lemberg.

The Russians are systematically sending infantry to pound the enemy front while Cossacks harry the Germans. One Orpington regiment alone captured two thousand prisoners. The Cossacks have cut the Halicz-Stanislaw railway. A large force of Teutons from Stanislaw is almost surrounded and must make a big detour constantly repelling cavalry attacks.

The war office announced the Russians continue to advance westward from Koropets. The Cossacks have reached a point north of the Dnieper before Mariampol. The Russians won a Sunday battle in the Kovel region. Fighting was severest at Stobysch west of Stobysch. The Germans started the attack at 6 a. m. They retreated to the old trenches Sunday night. Teutons behind fortified positions halted the Russian advance along the Sereth.

ROME, Aug. 14.—It is announced the Italians have pierced the Austrian line north of Gorizia and gained east of Nadlogeri Heights. They drove the Austrians across the Carso plateau.

New French Thrust Made.
PARIS, Aug. 14.—The French have captured Delicourt, broad trenches south of the Somme and widened previously seized positions. Three German Verdun attacks were repulsed. A new French thrust north of the Somme it is believed, presages the capture of the villages of Maurepas and Clercy.

Germans Gain Foothold.
LONDON, Aug. 14.—Halg reported that the Germans had gained a temporary footing in the trenches west of Pozieres. The British conducted a successful raid south of Ypres.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Lord Northcliffe has wired the Times from the Goritz front that Italy is just beginning to assert her real strength. He wrote: "Italy has much reserve. Yet don't mistake the strength of Austria's defensive organization."

"The Austrian front line at Carso plateau was blasted and drilled from limestone rock with machinery. Snipers occupy cells behind inch thick armor plate cemented into the rock. Many of the men on both sides formerly worked in America. The Italians frequently converse with prisoners in English, using American slang."

ACCEPTANCE SPEECH OF WILSON IS NOW READY FOR DELIVERY

Said to Calmly Dignified But Full of Punch in Every Paragraph; Accepts Mexican Issue.

(By Robert J. Bender.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The calm, dignified campaign between President Wilson and Charles E. Hughes for the highest office in the gift of the people may be said to be fairly under way.

The president has completed his speech of acceptance. It calmly, dignifiedly and intellectually knocks the spots off the official republican hide, in return for the calm, dignified and intellectual bomb throwing by Hughes. At least that is the word that has escaped from democratic leaders.

Campaign on High Plane.

There is no longer any doubt that the campaign will be conducted on a high plane. And that won't be the only resemblance it bears to the Austro-Italian mixup in the Alps. The atmosphere between the warriors may be icy but the fight won't lack warmth.

"A punch in every paragraph," said one joyful democratic leader yesterday, undertaking to hint at what he knows of the president's coming speech.

The address will be delivered Saturday afternoon, September 2, in front of the magnificent summer "White House" at Shadow Lawn, according to present plans.

Points of Attack Discussed.

The president's acceptance speech is understood to include acceptance of Mexico as an issue and will include together with a statement of what a democratic congress has done, and will do, a strong denunciation of the republican party, an indirect appeal to progressives and the declaration of a doctrine of "Americanism."

After thus opening the campaign, the president will determine what invitations he will accept between the latter part of September and election day.

If he makes an extended trip through the west, which now seems not unlikely, he will do it during October. On October 12 he hopes to be able to attend the Columbus day celebration at Boston.

The accident was due to backfiring of the machine when Mr. Gritman was returning from Blindham Springs. He was brought to town by friends. Nimrods Oil Up Artillery in Preparation For Open Season on Deer and Grouse

Now hand me down my old long-barrel. And prime my blunderbuss: I know a deer not far from here, I'm going to get the cuss.

Pendleton nimrods are today cleaning and oiling up their guns, hobnailing their boots and getting their camp equipments together. The hunting season opens tomorrow. From Aug. 15 until Oct. 31, open warfare may be waged upon deer, grouse and native pheasants without fear of arrest, providing that all the rules and regulations prescribed by the game laws are observed.

There will be many hunters afield early tomorrow in order to enjoy the sports before the game becomes wild and wary. Many parties left during the weekend to establish their camps and make all preparations for getting an early start.

While the hunters are busy, Game Warden George Tonkin and his deputies are also busy. They are out today to see that hunters do not begin their operations before the allotted

Strike is Hanging Fire, Trainmen are Cheerful After Talk With Wilson

Railroad Managers Will Confer With the President This Afternoon -- Reported That Employees Will Accept Arbitration Under Certain Conditions.

The railroad brotherhoods of conductors, engineers, firemen and trainmen demand a basis of an eight hour day and time and a half overtime.

Four hundred thousand are directly involved. Two million one hundred and fifty five thousand are indirectly involved.

Two hundred and twenty five railroads are affected. Two hundred and seventy thousand miles of trackage are affected. Two million five hundred and seven thousand cars will be tied up if the strike is called.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Twenty railroad managers reached the White House at 2:55 p. m. All refused to comment. They failed to reflect the trainmen's cheerfulness. Eliza Lee was spokesman.

Judge Chambers, federal mediator, introduced the delegation to the president. Chambers left the White House immediately afterwards. He said: "The ice seems melting a little. I feel much better about the situation than this morning. I am very optimistic that the president will be able to accomplish something. I do not believe a strike possible."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Wilson made the following statement: "I met both sides and considered the case with the utmost frankness, but I am unable to judge until tomorrow whether we have a feasible basis of settlement." Railroad managers conferred with the president briefly.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Wilson met representatives of the four railroad brotherhoods this morning. The conference lasted ninety minutes. The trainmen left the White House at noon. They smiled broadly.

A. B. Garretson of the conductors said: "Negotiations are entirely in the president's hands."

Warren Stone of the engineers said: "I am optimistic."

W. P. Lee of the firemen said: "It looks very good."

The employees are scheduled to see the president again this afternoon after his conference with the railroad managers at three o'clock. Wilson will spend the intervening time studying a stenographic report of the morning proceedings and formulating proposals to make to the managers. It is reported the employees have consented to accept arbitration provided the railroads withdraw their counter proposals. After the trainmen departed Federal Mediator Chambers again conferred with Wilson.

He Could Not Help But Bathe

Forcible bathing was again employed last night upon Jess Bowlsby, well known local young man who a year ago was subjected to a similar indignity.

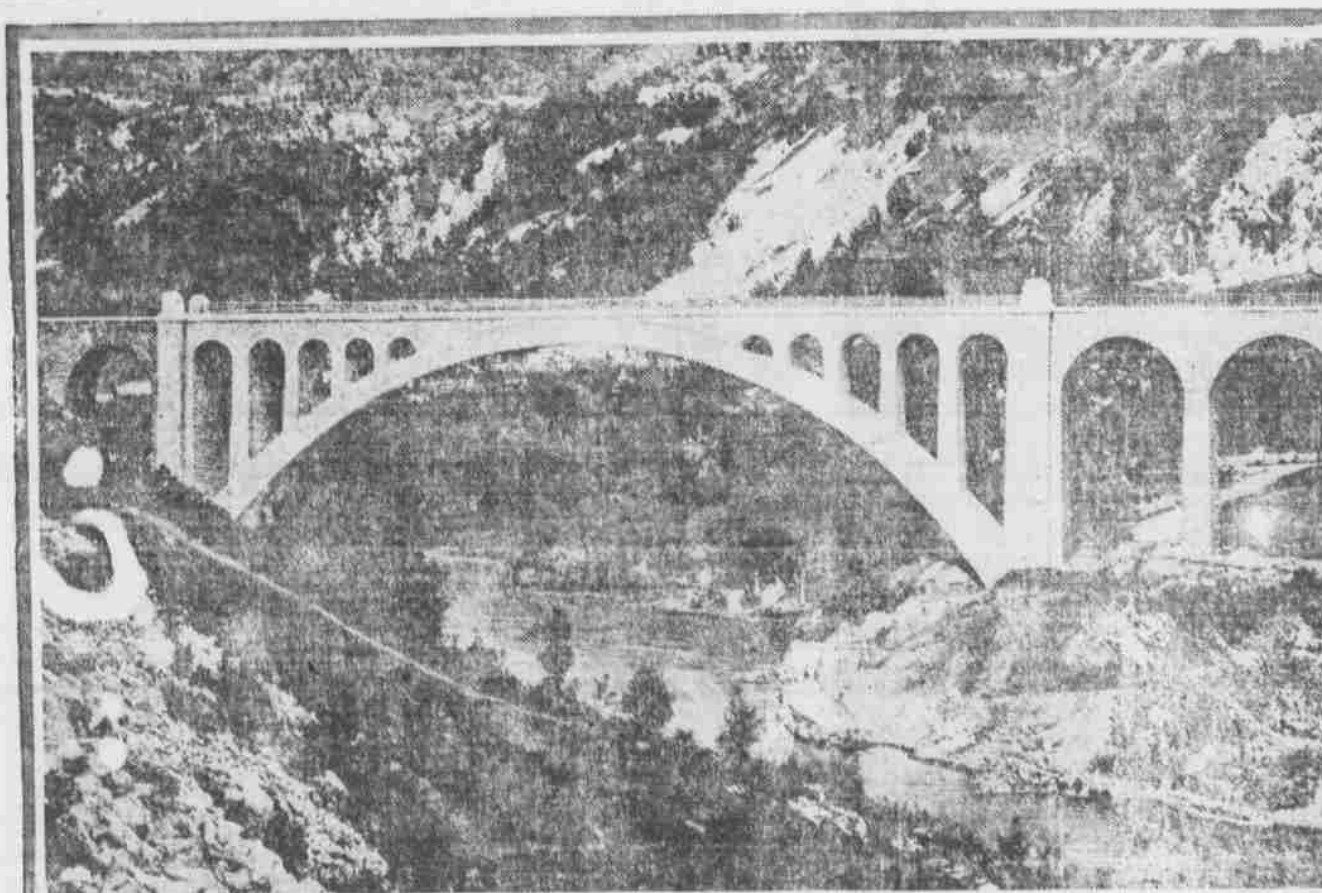

He was seized about 10 o'clock last night by thirty young men who held him in position that Bowlsby has a distinct aversion to the institution of the bath. The seizure took place on West Webb and Garden streets, he was carried several blocks, deposited in an auto, hurried to Round-Up Park and there forced to disrobe and scrub himself in the waters of the revolving basin for the irrigation system of the park.

When seized he was in the company of his brother, Clarence, and the latter put up battle in his defense. However, he was pitted against too great odds and retreated when threatened with the same treatment in store for his brother. He tried to locate the police and calling is said to have secured a gun with which he threatened some of the members of the "bach brigade" after they had returned to town.
